

Joe Sanchez Bio

Joe is a formally trained sound engineer. He is the owner and founder of Audiovisual Warrior Productions, LLC based in Las Vegas, Nevada.

Joe's love and understanding of sound began in his early years. As a teenager he was infatuated with music and the technical workings of sound. At the age of 14, Joe's love of sound lead him to become a well-known "DJ" working paid, live events in Ibiza and surrounding islands.

Joe studied at the Universidad Politecnica de Valencia in Spain where he earned a degree in Sound Engineering. In Spain, Joe worked with some of the biggest names in music like Metallica and Radio Head at Rock In Rio, with FIB international Festival Benicassim, and the Monegros Desert Festival.

In early 2012, Joe moved his European audiovisual company to the US. Shortly thereafter, Joe's unwavering dedication to quality quickly established him as a foundation of the Las Vegas audio world. During his time in the States Joe has already worked with Stevie Wonder, Smokey Robinson's Human Nature, and Billy Idol.

Bringing European quality and experience to local Las Vegas and California events, Joe has extensive experience in all areas of sound-mixing and recording including: live, television and broadcast.

Joe's diverse experience both domestic and abroad enables him to work well in all conditions with all types of teams. Regardless of your event's budget – high or low – if sound is important to your project, utilizing Joe and his talents ensures the highest-quality audio products available.
